The Case of the Missing Golden Whistle

Mr. Wang is a PE teacher. He has a golden whistle. Yesterday afternoon, the whistle disappeared from his office between 4:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

However, it started to rain heavily at 4:10 p.m. and stopped 10 minutes later. The PE office is in a separate building, so people must walk across the garden to get there. When Mr. Wang came back at 4:30 p.m., he found a wet footprint on the floor next to his desk.

Then, the student detective, Jason, talked to three students because they were near the PE office during the time. Here is the information he collected:
